THOUGHTS FROM FR. RICHARD
 PENSAMIENTOS DE PADRE RICARDO

■ WHAT IS THE AMAZING PARISH?

Two weeks ago, the clergy of the Diocese of Oakland held its triennial Convocation of Clergy in Asilomar, Pacific Grove, along with Bishop Michael Barber and 145 priests —all those in parish, pastoral work.

“The Amazing Parish” was the focus of the convocation. What makes a parish “Amazing” is something very simple and profound— whatever brings people closer to Jesus Christ. “The Amazing Parish” is an effort by Danville resident Patrick Lencioni, (who is a business consultant to major corporations), to apply principles of sound administration, personnel development, morale development, and product creativity to the Church. Mr. Lencioni has begun to work with Protestant, Evangelical and Catholic Churches in the United States.

The most important focus is on “The Sunday Experience.” The music, the message and the spirit of welcome is key. How to do that? Lots of ideas and suggestions, which we will explore here at St. Bonaventure’s. And the Pastoral Office and new Sunday morning parking lot attendants have a lot to do with it. A number of new initiatives we can start soon. We just need to do some tweaking. One general principle is that everything we are doing should be explicitly leading people to Jesus Christ. If not, it should be reviewed and let go. Now, that may be amazing. More to come!

At the end of the conference session with Bishop Barber, he wanted us to know his priorities for the diocese and our parishes— to make our parishes places where people encounter Jesus. The bishop would encourage us to evaluate every facet of parish life in light of that goal.

The Bishop listed three priorities:

1. To make the Sunday Mass the prime time experience of the week. The music, the message and the spirit of hospitality must engage the heart and soul of each person who comes.

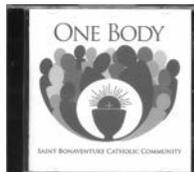

2. To do the Spiritual and Corporal Works of mercy— all of them. Mercy does not end with “The Year of Mercy.”

3. To inspire our Catholic parishioners to be disciples. Each, as Catholics, must inspire and talk and encourage others to become Catholics with us. How we are going to do that is the question of the century. But we have to get going before your time and my time runs out.

Of course there is a lot more to be said and explained about all of this, which will come over the weeks ahead. Stay tuned. The first thing that needs to be done is to gather the Pastoral Staff together and begin to share what was shared with Fr. David and me. That will be at the next Pastoral Meeting.

■ JUBILEE YEAR OF MERCY –
 Thirtieth Sunday in Ordinary Time

Today’s Gospel graces us with a beautiful prayer that can make every day of our lives a jubilee of mercy: “O God, be merciful to me a sinner” (Luke 18:13). Religious Israelites despised the tax collector who prayed it, for collaborating with Gentile occupiers and handling currency that bore the “divine” emperor’s graven image. But the Pharisee’s long-winded self-congratulation, mixed with self-righteous condemnation, was no “prayer” at all. “The Pharisee... spoke this prayer to himself” (18:11, emphasis added). Praying the tax collector’s simple, sincere, succinct cry for mercy acknowledges our own sinfulness, and “welcomes” other sinners as brothers and sisters with whom we can identify, even empathize, echoing Pope Francis’ famous comment about not being the one to judge. Indeed, the tax collector “went home justified” (18:14), that is, restored to God’s friendship, for God’s mercy is not prize achieved but gift received. “Let your prayer be brief: for tax collector, prodigal son, and dying thief were all reconciled to God by a single phrase!” (Saint John Climacus, 7th century).

All those who have been buried from our parish during the past year will be honored with a special reading of their names at all of the Masses during the Prayer of the Faithful. In addition, you are welcome to bring a photograph or memento of a deceased loved one and place it on one of the memorial tables in the sanctuary during the Mass you attend on November 2. ■ ALL SOULS' REMEMBRANCE ENVELOPES

During the month of November we remember all of our loved ones who have passed on. You may remember your loved ones in a special way by picking up an All Souls' envelope, writing their names and placing your gift to the parish inside, and then returning the envelope either to the parish office or by placing it in the collection basket. These envelopes, along with the Book of the Names of the Dead, will be placed in a prominent place in the church sanctuary throughout November, so that those who have died may be remembered in a special way during the month.

Envelopes may be found on the back tables, at the side doors, and on the table in the foyer.

■ CONTEMPLATIVE PRAYER

“But whenever you pray, go into your room and shut the door and pray to your Father who is in secret; and your Father who sees in secret will reward you.”—(Mt 6:6)

The practice of contemplative (or silent) prayer is just that: “practice.” It’s not always easy and some days are better than others, but the results are worth it. An opportunity to sit quietly with God – not asking for anything and letting the worries and busyness of the world go away. We start with a short reflection, enter into 20 minutes of silent prayer and end with the Our Father. Join us Tuesday 4:05-4:30pm. Just come when you can. Call Eileen (☎ 672-5800 x2217) if you have questions.

CATHOLIC SOCIAL TEACHING (CST)

The Church’s social teaching is a rich treasure of wisdom about building a just society and living lives of holiness amidst the challenges of modern society. Modern CST has been articulated through a tradition of papal, conciliar and episcopal documents. The depth and richness of this tradition can be understood best through a direct reading of these documents. We have highlighted several key themes that are at the heart of our Catholic social tradition.

1. Life and Dignity of the Human Person: All human life is sacred and the dignity of the human person is the foundation of a moral vision for society. This belief is the foundation of all the principles of our social teaching.
2. Call to Family, Community and Participation: The person is not only sacred, but also social. How we organize our society – in economics and politics, in law and policy – directly affects human dignity and the capacity for individuals to grow in community.

3. Rights and Responsibilities: Every person has a fundamental right to life and a right to those things required for human decency. Corresponding to these rights are duties and responsibilities – to one another, to our families, and to the larger society.
4. Option for the Poor and Vulnerable: A basic moral test is how our most vulnerable members are faring. Our tradition recalls the story of the Last Judgment (Mt 25:31-46) and instructs us to put the needs of the poor and vulnerable first.
5. The Dignity of Work and the Rights of Workers: The economy must serve people, not the other way around. Work is more than a way to make a living; it is a form of continuing participation in God’s creation.
6. Solidarity: We are one human family whatever our national, racial, ethnic, economic and ideological differences. We are our brothers’ and sisters’ keepers, wherever they may be. Our love for all our sisters and brothers demands that we promote peace in world surrounded by violence and conflict

7. Care for God’s Creation: We show our respect for the Creator by our stewardship of creation. We are called to protect people and the planet, living our faith in relationship with all of God’s creation.

REMOTE MATERIAL COOPERATION: What does that mean?

By Greg Colley

Voting while Catholic can prompt challenging questions: Can a Catholic vote for a candidate who supports a woman's right to choose abortion, or a candidate who supports use of the death penalty or euthanasia? The Church's teaching on these subjects is clear and unequivocal. Yet the Church also recognizes that when discerning a political choice, decisions may not be easy – candidates take positions on a number of subjects, not all of which align with Church teaching. In this brief article, the example of moral discernment where a candidate is pro-choice or pro-death penalty will be used as an example of morally informed political decision making, not as arguments in favor of positions contrary to Church teaching.

First, in the simplest terms, the US Conference of Catholic Bishops has made it clear that the Church cannot tell Catholics how to vote on election day. Catholics must vote their conscience - their informed consciences. This means it is possible that morally grave considerations may prompt a Catholic to vote for a candidate who otherwise supports acts which are otherwise known to the Church to be grave moral evils.

Second, it is important to make a moral distinction: there is a moral difference between what the government actively does and what the government allows to happen. For example, the death penalty under certain circumstances may be morally evil, and it is the government itself which executes the sentence. In the case of abortion, however, the government may allow a woman to choose, and if so it is not directly involved in the act of terminating a pregnancy.

Pope Benedict XVI, writing as Cardinal Joseph Ratzinger in a 2004 letter to Cardinal McCarrick in the United States, wrote

“A Catholic would be guilty of formal cooperation in evil, and so unworthy to present himself for Holy Communion, if he were to deliberately vote for a candidate precisely because of the candidate’s permissive stand on abortion and/or euthanasia. When a Catholic does not share a candidate’s stand in favor of abortion and/or euthanasia, but votes for that candidate for other reasons, it is considered remote material cooperation, which can be permitted in the presence of proportionate reasons.”

In specific terms, Catholics might therefore consider voting for a candidate who clearly demonstrates a preferential option for the poor - such as support for universal healthcare, robust assistance programs for families and children, support for a living wage, foreign aid to victims of natural disasters, etc. (all arguably pro-life positions) - even if that candidate supports a woman's right to choose when it comes to abortion. “Proportionate reasons,” in this example, include support for many millions of poor people, which may be weighed against the candidate allowing choice in the case of abortion.

The notion of “remote material cooperation” is even more important in the case of presidential candidates. The president does not make laws, the president only enforces them. The legality of abortion in the United States is now a matter of constitutional law. It is possible, however, that the president could influence the rate of abortions - such as by offering healthcare for mothers, jobs for those who need them, and additional assistance programs which may help them to not choose abortion. Catholic voters should consider the candidate's ability to influence policies when they carefully consider for whom they will vote.

DEATH PENALTY: PROPS 62 & 66

All Life Is Sacred – Innocent or Flawed

SACRAMENTO, CA - During this Jubilee Year of Mercy, we, the Catholic Bishops of California support Proposition 62 which would end the use of the death penalty in California. Our commitment to halt the practice of capital punishment is rooted both in the Catholic faith and our pastoral experience.

All life is sacred – innocent or flawed – just as Jesus Christ taught us and demonstrated repeatedly throughout His ministry. This focus on the preciousness of human life is fundamental to Christianity and most eloquently expressed in the two great commandments: “You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart ... love your neighbor as yourself.” (Mk. 12.30-31) Jesus makes clear that to love God we must love our neighbor. Each of us holds an inherent worth derived from being created in God’s own image. Each of us has a duty to love this divine image imprinted on every person. “Whoever does not love a brother whom he has seen cannot love God whom he has not seen.” (I Jn. 4.20)

Our support to end the use of the death penalty is also rooted in our unshakeable resolve to accompany and support all victims of crime. They suffer the very painful consequences of criminal acts. With the violent loss of a loved one, a sword has pierced their heart. Their enduring anguish is not addressed by the state-sanctioned perpetuation of the culture of death. As we pray with them and mourn with them we must also stress that the current use of the death penalty does not promote healing. It only brings more violence to a world that has too much violence already. We will continue to promote responsibility, rehabilitation and restoration for everyone impacted by the criminal justice system. Only through their healing will the entire community be healed.

The Bishops of the United States have long opposed the use of capital punishment. In the past, it was sometimes morally justified in order to protect society, but those times have passed. Proposition 62 provides voters with the opportunity to end this practice in California, just as 19 other states have already done.

Capital punishment has repeatedly been shown to be severely and irrevocably flawed in its application. In the long – but absolutely necessary – process of ensuring an innocent person is not put to death, we have seen many accused persons being exonerated as new forms of forensic investigation have enabled us to better scrutinize evidence. The high cost of implementing the death penalty has diverted resources from more constructive and beneficial programs both for rehabilitation and restoration of victims and offenders. Finally, repeated research has demonstrated that the death penalty is applied inconsistently along racial, economic and geographical lines.

For all of these reasons, we must also oppose Proposition 66 which will expedite executions in California. The search for a fair and humane execution process and protocol has failed for decades. Any rush to streamline that process will inevitably result in the execution of more innocent people. Neither the proponents nor the opponents of the death penalty wish this result.

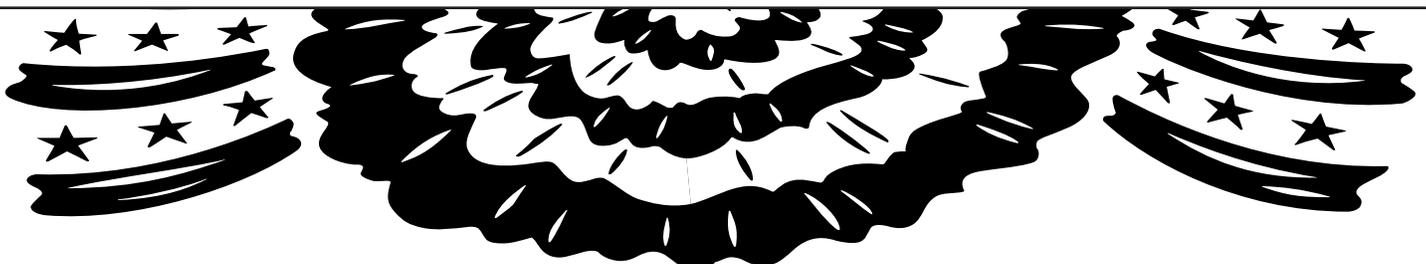

As Catholic Bishops we are heartened by the growth of Catholic lay movements aimed at ending the use of the death penalty. The faithful have heard the words of St. Pope John Paul II, Pope Emeritus Benedict XVI and Pope Francis to stop this practice around the world. As Pope Francis has stated:

A spreading opposition to the death penalty, even as an instrument of legitimate social defense, has developed in public opinion, and this is a sign of hope. In fact, modern societies have the ability to effectively control crime without definitively taking away a criminal’s chance to redeem himself. The issue lies in the context of a perspective on a criminal justice system that is ever more conformed to the dignity of man and God’s design for man and for society.

And also a criminal justice system open to the hope of reintegration in society. The commandment “thou shall not kill” has absolute value and pertains to the innocent as well as the guilty. (2/21/16 – Angelus)

In November – the concluding month of the Year of Mercy – Californians have the opportunity to embrace both justice and mercy (cf. Ps. 85.11) in their voting. We strongly urge all voters to prayerfully consider support for Proposition 62 and opposition to Proposition 66.

PROP 57: THE PUBLIC SAFETY & REHABILITATION ACT

- Punishment for its own sake is never an adequate response to crime
- Brings common sense to juvenile court proceedings
- Victims must have a central place in our justice system

SACRAMENTO, CA – The California Catholic Conference (CCC) of Bishops offers its support for Proposition 57: The Public Safety and Rehabilitation Act. This balanced approach to the criminal justice system in our state would advance the well-being of our residents and communities by re-focusing our collective efforts on rehabilitation, treatment and education programs. In addition, the initiative will place the decision to try juveniles as adults into the hands of those who best understand the intricacies of dealing with young people – the juvenile court.

Every day, in our parishes and ministries, we witness the devastating impact of crime on the people and families of our communities. Victims, whose lives have often been shattered, search for answers, look for healing and seek an opportunity to voice their needs. Families of perpetrators hide their pain, alone in their anguish and afraid to ask for help. And the incarcerated fruitlessly search for hope as programs that offer the possibility of rehabilitation are scrapped in lieu of the high costs of prison construction.

Through chaplaincies, prison ministries, parish outreach and other efforts, people of faith respond to the Gospel call and minister to all people impacted by crime. But we can, and society must, do more. Proposition 57 is a much needed first step. Our public policies include many elements of punishment, but that is not sufficient to prevent crime, heal victims and restore relationships and harmony in society:

[A] Catholic vision of crime and criminal justice can offer some alternatives. It recognizes that root causes and personal choices can both be factors in crime by understanding the need for responsibility on the part of the offender and an opportunity for their rehabilitation. A Catholic approach leads us to encourage models of restorative justice that seek to address crime in terms of the harm done to victims and communities, not simply as a violation of law. [Responsibility, Rehabilitation, and Restoration: A Catholic Perspective On Crime And Criminal Justice, A Statement by the US Conference of Catholic Bishops, 2000]

The threats to human dignity endemic to the current criminal justice situation in California demand our attention both as a people of faith and as residents of California. As we recognize and appreciate the dignity of others, together we build stronger, safer communities.

Many policy initiatives like “three strikes” laws and longer and mandatory sentences have tried – and failed – to correct our dysfunctional criminal justice system. The lack of resources for crime prevention has only led to overcrowded prisons, foreseeable recidivism rates and unsafe communities. These policies often result from fear, a natural spontaneous response to violence. We are called to take more constructive action by designing policies that employ resources most effectively, are based on the best available research and offer reasoned approaches. Appropriate and wisely-developed policies – such as offered in Prop 57 – will actually result in safer communities rather than a continuous cycle of crime and incarceration.

The Public Safety and Rehabilitation Act offers alternatives: an increase in public safety leading to less crime; programs to promote healing and rehabilitation; the means to deal with offending juveniles as the wounded children that they are; placing more decisions in the hands of impartial judges; and a chance at parole for non-violent offenders.

In the Jubilee Year of Mercy, we have a special call to address the difficulties characteristic of our current criminal justice system. As Pope Francis has said:

In the broad context of human social relations, when we look to crime and punishment, we cannot help but think of the inhumane conditions in so many prisons, where those in custody are often reduced to a subhuman status in violation of their human dignity and stunted in their hope and desire for rehabilitation. The Church does much in these environments, mostly in silence. I exhort and I encourage everyone to do more, in the hope that the efforts being made in this area by so many courageous men and women will be increasingly supported, fairly and honestly, by the civil authorities as well. [World Day of Peace Message, 2014.]

We respectfully urge the citizens of California to prayerfully and conscientiously study this situation and support the Public Safety and Rehabilitation Act, Prop 57, on the November 2016 ballot.

■ LUCAS 18, 9-14

Hoy Jesús nos cuenta una parábola destinada “para algunos que creyéndose buenos, despreciaban a los demás.”

Los creyentes tenemos que tener mucho cuidado en las actitudes que emanan de nuestra vida cristiana. Vivir siguiendo a Cristo supone estar en el mundo con una vida equilibrada y bien pegada a la felicidad. Felicidad que no hace daño ni a la propia persona ni a los demás. Creo que esto es cierto cuando intentamos hacer nuestro camino de las bienaventuranzas. Lo que intenta explicarnos el Evangelio de hoy no es la bondad presente en nuestra vida sino la actitud que toma la persona que disfruta de tal regalo.

A los cristianos nos han educado en el respeto a la persona. Bien conocido es aquello de “condenar el pecado no al pecador...” pero la realidad muchas veces es bien distinta. El pecado de los otros muchas veces en nuestra manera de percibirlos absorbe a la persona condenándola junto con su comportamiento. No olvidamos con frecuencia que en el corazón de todo ser humano siempre está latiendo la presencia amorosa de Dios, del Dios que espera, acoge y perdona.

Lo curioso de la parábola es que los dos estaban haciendo algo objetivamente bueno: los dos estaban orando. Lo que les diferencia a uno de otro es la actitud exterior e interior con lo que hacían sus rezos:

Los dos fueron al templo a orar: No es suficiente el espacio religioso para lograr con la ayuda de Dios las actitudes del Evangelio. Vemos gente “de Iglesia” cuya inmadurez humana y espiritual es más que evidente. Ir al templo es entrar en el espacio de Dios, en los criterios y objetivos del Evangelio. Ocurre que muchas veces nuestro cuerpo entra en el templo, pero nuestra vida está atascada en celos, en afanes de reconocimiento por parte de los demás, en complejos disimulados en falsa espiritualidad... Nuestra vida tiene que estar permanentemente en el templo, esto es, en la presencia de Dios para aprender a ser tal cual Él nos quiere.

El fariseo se mantiene de pie: La verdad es que el creyente sale un tanto mal parado en esta parábola, pero así es como debe ser. No censura Jesús lo que cree o lo bueno que hace. Jesús ataca la soberbia y el afán de suficiencia con el que lo hace. Nuestro fariseo cumple lo estipulado pero no cambia la actitud del corazón.. Muchos cristianos no se dan cuenta que todo lo que hacemos, los métodos que utilizamos, las estructuras organizativas, las celebraciones litúrgicas son siempre para crecer en el amor de Dios: no son fines en sí mismos. ¿De qué te sirve hacer tantas cosas “religiosas” si luego tu vida está lejos del amor que Cristo nos trae? El fariseo cumple lo prescrito y por eso se cree bueno. Piensa que lo que él hace es lo más importante y que lo que hacen los demás no lo es. Cada ser humano tiene un termómetro en el seguimiento de Cristo. Si tu vida crece día a día en el amor, estás por el buen camino. Si, en cambio, tu vida cada día es más soberbia disfrazada de tantas maneras de falsas espiritualidades, ya te has apartado del camino...

El cobrador de impuestos se había quedado a cierta distancia: Este hombre percibe la distancia que nos separa en esta vida de Dios. Nuestro Dios no está lejos de nosotros. Está tan cerca que podemos charlar con Él cada día y en cada momento, pero sabemos que está en el mundo sin confundirse con él. Descubrir la distancia que existe de mi vida hasta Dios es el camino de la conversión. Vivir en cristiano es reducir distancias sin soberbias, sin envidias, latiendo en el amor a Dios.

El cobrador de impuestos volvió a su casa perdonado por Dios; pero el fariseo no. Curiosa distribución la que Dios hace. Al que tenía más pecado se le perdonó y al que vivía según la ley cumpliendo todo lo prescrito apenas fue escuchado. La paga de la humildad y del reconocerse ante Dios tal y cual somos es el perdón y la paz interior. La soberbia religiosa es un arma que siempre se utiliza contra el otro. Es como decirle a los demás: “Yo soy más santo que tú...” La santidad es dejar un hueco en el corazón lo más grande posible para albergar a Dios y a la humanidad entera.

El fariseo no fue perdonado porque lo que presentaba ante Dios eran logros y cumplimientos. El publicano, en cambio, oraba no presentando las conquistas espirituales logradas por prácticas religiosas sino que se presentaba ante Dios humillado, pidiendo misericordia.

Termina el Evangelio recordándonos la necesidad de la humildad para no presumir de la fe y del cómo la vivimos; más bien una vida de fe vivida en plenitud será siempre un interrogante para los demás y una llamada a la misericordia de Dios. Nada tiene de qué presumir quien sabe que es Dios quien nos lo da todo. Dios les ayude. Diácono Mariano Preza.

■ SE JUBILA EL DIÁCONO MARIANO

El Diácono Mariano Preza se jubilará de su papel como Coordinador del Ministerio Parroquial de la comunidad hispana, a finales del año.

Debido a problemas de salud, su médico le ha prescrito un descanso sabático de seis semanas comenzando el 16 de octubre. Después de este período sabático, el diácono Mariano volverá a trabajar sirviendo en un período de transición hasta finales del año cuando se jubile oficialmente como miembro de nuestro Personal Pastoral.

Mariano seguirá sirviendo como diácono en nuestra parroquia, para celebrar bautizos, funerales, bodas y quinceañeras, pero ya no servirá como administrador de la comunidad hispana de la parroquia.

Después de que preparemos una nueva descripción del trabajo, se iniciará el proceso para encontrar y contratar a quién será el nuevo administrador Pastoral de la Comunidad Hispana.

Mariano ha servido a la comunidad de habla hispana durante los últimos 31 años, comenzando con la Comunidad Hispana de Concord. Tendremos la oportunidad de agradecer y honrar al Diácono Mariano antes de que él se retire. — Padre Richard A. Mangini

■ AÑO JUBILAR DE LA MISERICORDIA
Trigésimo Domingo del Tiempo Ordinario

El Evangelio de hoy nos engalana con una hermosa oración que puede hacer todos los días de nuestras vidas un Jubileo de la misericordia: “Oh Dios, ten piedad de mí, que soy un pecador” (Lucas 18:13).

“El fariseo... habló esta oración para sí mismo” (18:11). Orando grito sincero, pidiendo misericordia y reconociendo su propia pecaminosidad y “da la bienvenida a” otros pecadores como hermanos y hermanas con quien puede identificarse, incluso empatiza, haciéndose eco el comentario famoso del Papa Francisco que dice no ser quien para juzgar.

De hecho, el recaudador de impuestos “fue a su casa justificado” (18:14), es decir, restauró la amistad de Dios, porque la misericordia de Dios no es un premio logrado sino un don recibido. «Que tu oración sea breve: el recaudador de impuestos, el hijo pródigo y el ladrón moribundo, todos se reconciliaron con Dios con una sola frase!» (Saint John Climacus, siglo VII).

■ FRASES DEL PAPA FRANCISCO

“Demasiadas personas se ven envueltas en resentimiento y abrigan odio pues son incapaces de perdonar y arruinan su propia vida y la vida de las personas que los rodean en lugar de encontrar la alegría de la serenidad y de la paz.”

■ TODOS LOS SANTOS MARTES 1 DE NOVIEMBRE.

La solemnidad de todos los Santos es el martes 1 de noviembre. Vamos a celebrar cuatro Misas especiales en la Iglesia en honor a los Santos: 6:30am, 9:00am, 4:00pm, y 7:30pm.

■ MISA POR LOS FIELES DIFUNTOS
MIÉRCOLES 2 DE NOVIEMBRE

Recordaremos los fieles Difuntos con tres Misas en la Iglesia el miércoles 2 de noviembre: 6:30am, 9:00am y 7:30pm (bilingüe).

Todos aquellos cuyos funerales se realizaron en nuestra parroquia durante el año pasado serán homenajeados con una especial lectura de sus nombres en todas las Misas durante la oración de los fieles. Además, está bien traer una fotografía o un recuerdo de un ser querido fallecido. Se colocará sobre una de las mesas en el Santuario memorial durante la Misa el 2 de noviembre. También puede colocarse una foto en el altar “Día de los Muertos” situado en el vestíbulo.

■ SOBRES EN MEMORIA DE LOS FIELES DIFUNTOS

Durante el mes de Noviembre recordamos a todos nuestros seres queridos que han fallecido. Podemos recordarlos de una manera especial escribiendo sus nombres y colocando la donación a la parroquia dentro de un sobre. Luego puede regresar los sobres a la oficina parroquial o colocarlos en la canasta de la colecta dominical. Estos sobres, junto con el libro de los nombres de los fallecidos, se colocarán en el Santuario de la Iglesia durante el mes de noviembre para que quienes han fallecido pueden ser recordados de una manera especial.

Los sobres los puede encontrar en las mesas traseras de las puertas laterales de la Iglesia y en el vestíbulo.

■ ¡EL CD “UN CUERPO” ESTÁ AQUÍ!

Si habían ordenado el CD o quieren comprarlo, estamos disponibles después de todas las Misas en las mesas dispuestas para este fin. El CD incluye conciertos de cada uno de los coros de San Buenaventura y cuenta con algunas de nuestras canciones preferidas tales como: Somos un cuerpo, en la fracción del pan y vamos hacer la diferencia (We Are One Body, In the Breaking of the Bread, and Go Make a Difference). El costo del CD es de $15 cada uno, y todas las ganancias van a la Iglesia de San Buenaventura.
